Hints for Color Groups of Iris: Try lemon yellow, flamingo pink and pale blue together for an exquisite pastel effect! The brown blends combine well with light blue, pink and purple. The reds are perhaps best with light yellow or cream and the deep blues are lovely with lighter blues and whites. The plicatas are stunning with selfs that repeat the colors of the plicata. Bicolors and variegatas should be treated the same way. Experiment!

The size of iris rhizomes (bulbs) varies! Some varieties with huge blossoms make comparatively small rhizomes while others with medium size flowers may make huge rhizomes. Size of the rhizomes is not so important as it appears. What is important is a fine root system and the ability to take root and grow quickly in you garden. That is what our husky plants do for you.

EXPLANATION OF IRIS TERMS AND AWARDS:

Standards - The three upper petals in the open flower.

Falls - The three lower petals.

Beard - Row of hair-like growth on upper part of falls.

Haft - Upper surface of the falls around the beard.

Self - One shade of color throughout the flower.

Bicolor - Two shades of one color; falls darker than standards.

Variegata - Standards yellow; falls red, purple or brown.

Aurea - Standards white; falls blue, purple or rose.

Plicata - Markings (dots or lines) of dark color on light ground.

Blend - A mixture of several colors, one always being yellow.

THE NAME of each variety is printed in capitals and is followed by the name of the originator and the date of introduction in parenthesis. This is followed by the comparative season of bloom (E - early, EM - early midseason, M - midseason, ML - late midseason, L - late, VL - very late), next, average height of the stem in inches, next the awards the variety has received and finally the description and price.

AWARDS: D.M. - Dykes Medal A.M. - Award of Merit
 H.M. - Honorable Mention

The Dykes Medal is the highest honor an iris can receive; only one is given each year. A.M. is next highest and H.M. is next.

JOIN THE AMERICAN IRIS SOCIETY/ You receive four fat bulletins a year, full of fascinating information on varieties and species. Critical appraisal of the newer novelties and reports from all over the nation. The annual awards are published as well as the valuable symposium of the 100 favorite iris of the year. Send $4.00 for membership dues to American Iris Society, 3902 Hillsboro Road, Nashville 12, Tennessee.

To all our iris friends everywhere we offer our sincerest hopes for a happy, enjoyable iris season and to our kind patrons a hearty thanks for your generous orders. Our plants have been sent to all parts of the country and reports reach us that they are giving satisfaction everywhere. If possible, plan to visit our gardens at Iris Time and see these modern beauties in full flower. Our tall bearded iris start to bloom about the middle of May, with the height of bloom during the last full week in May.
